

Content Management Systems

Simple... Flexible... Powerful...

CMS?

If your need is for a site that requires frequent content updates, articles, news and images, no matter how small or large, then you would benefit from a Content Management System. For example: reservations, recruitment, community, online shops or 'magazine' driven sites would need fast changing content. These systems give you complete control over your site which is accessed via a secure password protected "admin area". You can login with the use of your favourite browser and use a "word type" interface to edit your pages.

CMS can be used in any application of any size, don't be put off by something that sounds complicated and looks costly. CMS are almost always a very cost effective solution for a website. It also gives you full control over your content. We can provide user training or alternatively, if you don't have the time to update we can do it all for you upon request. We can provide a bespoke approach to creating a CMS driven site or, for ease you can opt for the Enterprise Pack here. The possibilities are massive when using CMS. You can integrate many different functions to suit your needs, for example: Professional image and multimedia galleries, Portfolio's and product catalogues
