Freedom Taxi

"We

liked the idea of basic packages offered by FireBrush. As we didn't really know a great deal about the web and being on a budget, the basic Discovery Package was ideal for us. The service we received was also excellent, everything was explained to us first so that we understood completely. We can also recommend the SEO option as we now rank comfortably high on Google, there's also a great deal of competition in Braintree within the transport industry so this has put us above the competition!"

"As

we had a new and important product launch on the horizon, we decided to incorporate a new website also. As our old site was basic and dated we wanted the new one to include several functions and product shots.

After sorting through many local design companies, Fire Brush came up with the best solution. During our consultations the guy's demonstrated to us the best way to approach our project - we knew we had got the right people! The defining moment for us was after the guy's presented some photography of our new product - excellent!!! As the product had not been launched, Fire Brush were also extremely discrete and understood the sensitive nature of this new product".

Aerial Photography Online "We had been looking for a solution that could encompass all our needs in one package, Fire Brush had the

the most flexible system which was demonstrated to us so we could obtain a better understanding. They made several visits to us during the build - superb support, other companies only wanted to communicate via e-mail which during a project of this size held no value. Highly recommended!" - Trevor - Aerial Photography Online.

"The final website result was excellent and far beyond what we had hoped. It provides us with a professional image, which targets the correct audience. The service could not be faulted; we were always updated with the progress of the site and we felt comfortable with expressing our opinions or requesting additional items added to the site. Firebrush were able to competently advise us on how to optimize our website and offer various options, adding value to the overall service. As Firebrush are a local business, with experience of the industry that we operate, it seemed that this would be the ideal company to work with, our decision was spot on! Firebrush were able to give us advice and support beyond our expectations. We highly recommend them!"

"Not having done a web site before, Firebrush was recommended to us by two of our joint clients.

The brief given was for our web site to be fresh, clean, easy to use and no clutter. After viewing a number of designs we both thought the one chosen filled the brief best, we then supplied text and Photo's sat back and let Firebrush get on with it. The result you can see for yourselves...

Feed back from our client list as been excellent and more are asking for their signs to be included

Thanks Firebrush, brilliant!"
