Site description: Date: May 2009
Client: Screen Print UK

- Website: www.screenprintuk.co.uk

This site is an example of ongoing development projects we create for our large customers. Screen Print have moved up a gear from their one page site to a fully functional content managed system to promote their online clothing and printing business. They can provide just about any method of printing, embroidering your designs onto just about any clothing!

They have impressive equipment and facilities to get the job done, so to match the management at Screen Print asked us for a colourful, well laid out site that can be developed further easily as the business grows... And growing it is!
